Bordeaux Easter Egg Hunt

On Saturday April 13, thirty-three children, grandchildren, nieces, and nephews of families living in Bordeaux participated in the 11th Annual Bordeaux Easter Egg Hunt. The children collected eggs, including nine each of gold and silver eggs, which were then exchanged for chocolate bunnies. After the hunt, they picked a prize from the Lollipop Egg, completed a sand art project by filling clear eggs with colorful sand, selected what they wanted to be made from balloons, and applied temporary tattoos. They also took home carrot treats and bunny juice boxes made by Phyllis Edlund.

Thank you to Phyllis Edlund and Renee Hendrix for coordinating the egg hunt and to the Rossi and Hendrix families for the use of their yards. We appreciate the Easter Bunny and all the helpers: Myron Hendrix and three generations of the Edlund family, including Glen, their daughter and two granddaughters.

A very big thanks to all the families that contributed candy and made monetary donations. Nine families donated a total of 46 pounds of candy! This included contributions from families that didn’t attend. We appreciate your generosity which helps make this event possible.

We once again thank the Brezniak family for their very generous donation!

Book Club Review
Tuscan Child by Rhys Bowen, a novel of secrets, wartime danger, and culinary delights in scenic Tuscany, was the book chosen to discuss at our book club meeting held at the home of Marsha Hill on April 25. The morning was filled with good food, lively conversation, and a thought-provoking discussion of the book. We all agreed that Bowen’s “Agatha Christie” style of writing kept us in suspense until the last pages of the book were read.
